this book explores the nature and type of prevalent collective behavior that influences women empowerment women workforce participation and behavior change in sanitation the influence of collective norms and customs have been investigated through a series of studies throughout india there are very few research works on understanding social norms that distinguishes it from a range of other collective behaviors this understanding would not only improve analytical clarity on collective behavior in general and social norms in particular in the context of gender and sanitation but also improve development practice in these areas this book is also novel as it would expound the social network in the context of sanitation behavior in india the tools and techniques discussed in the book are replicable and hence would be helpful for other researchers and development practitioners to analyse other collective behaviours this book examines sanitation and toilet access across rural india focusing on psychological socio cultural infrastructural and normative barriers to the initiative of swachh bharat mission sbm while sketching the evolution of sanitation policies in india it assesses their impact on sanitation behaviour it also studies the implications of variations in caste religion and geography on toilet usage across indian states by analysing data from various states and intensive micro level studies of three states i e rural bihar gujarat and telangana this volume suggests that socio cultural factors are as significant as economic factors in shaping sanitation behaviour argues that the concepts of cleanliness and pollution are often determined by the social cultural context rooted in historical events that have shaped traditional beliefs and ideas about space explores gendered perspectives on the usage of and access to toilets highlights the limited effectiveness of information education and communication iec programs in encouraging toilet adoption and emphasizes the need for information dissemination at the ground level gives recommendations for enhancing the adoption of toilets in rural india including provision for more than one toilet per household uninterrupted access to water and behavioural change to combat open defecation this book will be useful to students studying sociology psychology social work and development studies it will also be an invaluable companion to ngos social workers and activists actively involved in water sanitation and hygiene moreover this book holds immense value as a pivotal resource and point of reference for policymakers engaged in rural development with a specific focus on sustainable development goals this book will argue that lodging is a hugely ignored largely invisible but critical sector of housing provision and economic contributor of burgeoning african cities it further connects the rural and the urban challenging traditional definitions of locationally bound communities lodgers create micro local and translocal communities and the lodging system offers livelihood strategies rather than engage in the dominant portrayal of rural urban as binary dichotomous space we maintain that lodging represents and supports the translocal community and relational networks of the extended family as it seeks to maximize access to resources practising engineers on site in the design office or in client organizations will find this book an excellent introduction to the design and construction of sprayed concrete lined scl tunnels the complex behaviour of the early age behaviour of the sprayed concrete requires careful management this book covers all aspects of scl tunnelling from the constituents of sprayed concrete to detailed design and management during construction although there is a close interdependence between all the facets of sprayed concrete few engineers have the right breadth of experience and expertise and this urgently needs to be transferred to the wider engineering community disseminating essential information for tunnelling engineers sprayed concrete lined tunnels is key reading for all involved in or studying the process
